

Privacy policy

Designs on Learning LLC™ (“Designs on Learning”) understands the privacy concerns of its user community. Therefore, we seek the maximum transparency and consideration in how we use and store your personal data. Our guiding principle is that the user should always have access to and control over his or her own data at all times. We will also seek to comply with any applicable privacy legislation or regulations in effect. This Privacy Policy, which should be read in conjunction with Designs on Learning’s Terms and Conditions, describes how we handle the privacy of our users’ personal data. By accepting the Designs on Learning’s Terms and Conditions, you (as a user of Designs on Learning’s services) agree to allow us to collect, process, store, use and disclose the information, including personal information, that you provide to us as outlined in and consistent with this Privacy Policy.

Designs on Learning may modify this Privacy Policy at any time and for any reason without prior notice to our users. We will always highlight in a prominent way or otherwise notify you of the fact that our Privacy Policy has changed and publish the revised version on our website before it takes effect. By accessing and using our website and services following any such modifications, you agree to comply with and be bound by the Terms and Conditions and such revised Privacy Policy, each as modified from time to time. We encourage you to check our website for updates on a regular basis.

Our Commitment To You Regarding Your Personal Information

When you first access our website, we request contact information, such as your name, e-mail address, and additional demographic information. We also collect non-personally identifiable information, such as your IP address, operating system, hardware, browser, referral website, and other similar types of data, for statistical and trouble-shooting purposes. We use this information to establish you as a user of the website. We may also use this information to contact you about the services on our site in which you have expressed interest. We do not store credit card details, nor do we share customer details with any third parties. We do not sell or otherwise share your personal data. We will not under any circumstances provide a user’s personal information to third parties, nor will we retain data that the user wishes to change or delete, unless we believe in good faith that such action is required by applicable law or unless we obtain the consent of the user. We will never request sensitive personal information such as race, religion, ethnicity, or sexual orientation.

We use cookies, which are data stored on your computer's hard drive that allow Designs on Learning to recognize your browser. You may block access of cookies or delete them from your hard drive through the toolbar on your computer. However, please be aware that, by doing so, you may be prevented from using the website properly and benefiting fully from the range of services offered.

Designs on Learning may access and disclose the information that you provide to us, notwithstanding the terms of our Privacy Policy, if required to do so by law or if such action is reasonably necessary to comply with legal process, deal appropriately with third-party claims, protect the rights of the Company, other users of the Website, or the public at large, and/or to enforce these Terms and Conditions.

Services Through Our Website

Users provide information during the process of using the Designs on Learning service. Users are requested to provide contact information, such as name and e-mail address. The information we collect is to provide our users with the best possible service. If, for any reason, we have any issues with providing that service, we may use the contact information provided to us in order to get in touch with the user.
